POSTMASTERS LIKE SAVINGS BANK LAW

Convention Indorses Measure
After Inspector Cochran Explains It.

WILL INCULCATE THRIFT
NEW OFFICERS OF ASSOCIATION ARE ELECTED.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, July 9.—Resolutions heartily commending the new postal savings bank law were passed by the Utah postmasters in convention today and a copy of the resolutions ordered forwarded to Washington.

This action was taken at the conclusion of several hours' discussion and explanation of the law's operation, in which every doubtful point was thoroughly thrashed out and made plain.

Just prior to the adjournment of the postmasters tonight, the following officers were elected for the new year:

President—C. H. Roberts of Bingham.

First Vice President—May Griffiths.

Second Vice President—L. W. Shurtliff of Ogden.

Third Vice President—J. P. Driscoll of Eureka.

Secretary and Treasurer—J. A. Hatch of Wood's Cross.

Besides the resolution indorsing the postal savings bank law, the Utah postmasters passed resolutions favoring the extension of the classified service to include all postoffice employees and postmaster assistants, and also advocated the establishment of a domestic parcel post, the establishment of a minimum quarterly salary of $100 for postmasters of the third class and the addition of a clerk for such postmasters where necessary.

The postmasters indorsed the efficiency and economy of the postoffice officials at Washington. The postmasters also favored the establishment of a rural carriers' association, and all of the postmasters declared they would assist in organizing such a body.

Explains New Measure.

Chief Inspector W. E. Cochran, representing the postmaster general, was the first speaker at this morning's session of the convention. He started the discussion with a comprehensive paper in which he explained in full the vital points of the postal savings bank as a national institution. As to the charges of Senator La Follette and others that the law was but an attempt to place the saving deposits of the entire nation within reach of Wall street, Inspector Cochran declared that the idea was absurd, inasmuch as it directly accused the entire national government of being corrupted in the interests of Wall street.

Following his address questions were in order, and the convention launched into informal discussion, and the technical points of the new law and the probable duties it entails on the postmasters. It was said that the savings bank would instill a spirit of saving in the youth of the land, would do away entirely with the evil of wealth being withdrawn from circulation and hoarded, and would favorably effect the industry and prosperity of the entire nation.

One delegate recommended that the teachers in the public schools be furnished with full explanations of the new law so that after it has gone into operation they may encourage the habit of saving in children.

A paper on "New Orders Issued by the Department at Washington," by Postmaster Odell of Logan, ended the morning session. He discussed several interesting points brought out under recent orders from Washington headquarters, chief of which was the newly inaugurated system of handling money orders between the United States and Mexico without the usual international money order.

GET ELECTRIC HAIR CUT.

All Prisoners Serving Over Ten Days to Be Shorn.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, July 9.—All violators of the law who fall into the hands of the Ogden police and receive jail sentences of more than ten days will appear with heads shaved in the morning. The chain gang went out to work today with heads minus all hair, and it was given out that this treatment would be dealt out to all others in the future—at least during the summer—in spite of the strenuous protest of the city council. An electric hair-clipping machine has been installed at police headquarters and gets busy on each new boarder who has gone through the mill in police court. This is declared to be a move toward more sanitary methods and will be continued during the summer months.

TRAMPS LEAVING RENO.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, July 9.—The army of hoboes has started east from Reno. Today the Ogden police rounded up about fifty of the dusty brakebeam riders and locked them in jail. The tramps in Reno for the last night are being run out of Nevada. Those in jail here will be run out of town Monday.

July 14th and 20th. Special low round trip rates to points in northern Utah and Idaho. City ticket office, 156 Main street.

Would you buy a high-class suit if you could get it at a big reduction? You sure would. Well drop in, we're for you.

Jeddy Skeen Is Soundly Spanked by Answer's Satire

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, July 9.—Humorously tolerant to the last line, the Ogden Rapid Transit company today filed a 20-page answer to the action recently brought by Jeddy Skeen to force the company to stop its cars at the Lewis resort in Ogden canyon.

Skeen, in bringing the suit, styled himself as "relator on behalf of the state of Utah." In its answer the transit company styles him "booby, investigative, demanding, exacting, and peripatetic person of whose citizenship or legal right to bring such action the company has no knowledge." Skeen set forth that he was a resident of the resort in question, and thereby affected by the action of the company in failing to stop its cars. The company declares him to be a "roving, itinerant bird of passage with rather exacting residential demands."

To the prayer of the affiant that the company be forced to stop its cars at the resort in question, the answer states that to stop its cars on this particular property would be trespass on the part of the passengers, and the company would be an accessory to the trespass.

Further, it says that revenue from this resort would not justify the establishment of a regular stopping station.

And hints that, even should Skeen accomplish his purpose, he would probably immediately change his residence and look for "new fields of occupying himself with other people's business."

Let Him Locomote.

In conclusion, the company prays that the district court will allow Skeen full right to locomote at will between his city home and his summer domicile amid the rugged grandeur of Ogden canyon by whatever private means he sees fit and without molestation or hindrance from the Rapid Transit company.

The lengthy document in various instances launches into rosy descriptions of the beauties of Ogden canyon, the traits of J. D. Skeen and the rights of the company to stop when and where it sees fit along its canyon line.

As a further show of humor it admits the allegation of the affiant that the company stops its cars at the Hermitage resort, inasmuch as the track ends there and to attempt to go further would be futile.

The answer, together with an application for a demurrer denying the jurisdiction of the district court in the case, was argued before Judge J. H. Howell this afternoon and taken under advisement.

CREDITORS LOSE SUIT

Court Declares They Had No Right to Attach Property Previously Disposed of by Owner.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, July 9.—In a decision handed down this afternoon, Judge J. A. Howell of the district court declares that creditors have no right to attach property previously disposed of by the debtor. The case was that of Susan McFarland, administrator of the estate of Charles B. McFarland, against James N. Kimball, George Halverson and the Utah National bank.

Findings of the court are that Thomas B. McFarland, brother of Charles B. McFarland, sold a certain piece of real estate to the latter for $250. That following Thomas McFarland's death, Kimball Halverson and the Utah National bank filed against the property to cover debts owing to them by the original owner of the property, claiming that Charles McFarland had secured the property for an amount much less than its actual value.

Charles McFarland died October 15, 1909, and the legal controversy fell to the lot of his widow, as administratrix of the estate. The court grants her undisputed possession of the property.

ASSIGNMENTS GIVEN TO ASSISTANT FORESTERS

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, July 9.—Ten graduate assistant foresters from the forestry schools in various parts of the country have been assigned to this district, and several have already arrived in Ogden and have been detailed for service in the Targhee forest, with headquarters at St. Anthony, Ida. The assistants to be used in this district are: William N. Sparhawk, Irwin W. Cook, Samuel B. Locke, Harry B. Marks, James Saxon, Herman Work, Dan Parkinson, Lester E. Hitchcock, William D. Treadwell and Leiton H. Kooyumjian.

NO WATER IN OGDEN.

City Dry for Twelve Hours While Pipes Are Changed.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ogden, July 9.—Beginning at 10 o'clock tonight, Ogden was without water for fire protection or domestic purposes for more than twelve hours. The water throughout the entire city was shut off by the waterworks department, and a force of men are now at work changing the feed pipes from the old to the new reservoir.

In case of fire, connections would have been made with the Union Pacific reservoir near the foot of the mountain east, where 2,000,000 gallons are stored.

The changing of the feed pipes will include the installation of our twenty-inch double-gate valves of a weight of 2,000 pounds each, and a mammoth iron cross weighing 2,000 pounds.

Mayor Glasman today issued a proclamation warning citizens against using water after 6 o'clock tonight, under penalty of prosecution.

CORRESPONDENCE WOOING CULMINATES IN WEDDING

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Farmington, July 9.—After nineteen months of courtship, Miss Ellen Cook of England and Charles Rose of Farmington were married Friday. The bride had "met" Mr. Rose by correspondence, originally began with his sister-in-law. She was induced to come to Farmington to make her home and was met at the station by Mr. Rose at 5 p. m. Mrs. Cook is 22 years of age, and the bride was married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Steed, by J. E. Robinson. The newly-wedded couple will reside in Farmington.

DECIDE ON TAX LEVY.

Council Draws Up Library Plans to Send to Carnegie Board.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Manti, July 9.—The subject of erecting a library at the City park was discussed by the city council of Manti at their last meeting. The matter was tabled, and the following rates were presented of welfare to the city. The tax levy was fixed for this year; this was one of the important matters presented, and another was to consider plans for the Carnegie library, to be submitted to the Carnegie library board. Plans for the library were selected as presented by R. L. Watkins.

It was decided to levy the irrigation tax separate from the city maintenance tax, and the following rates were decided on: Farming land, a rate of 35 cents an acre; for city lots, one-quarter of a mill; 75 cents, and for part lots in proportion; for contingent purposes, 5 mills; for interest on bond, 4 mills, and for construction of waterways, 1 mill.

PARK CITY ORE SHIPMENTS.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Park City, July 9.—Ore shipments from Park City during the week were: Daily West, 1,046,000; Daily West (alt), 437,480; Silver King Coalition, 737,000. Total, 2,260,480 pounds.

Shipping reports being made at the Daily-Judge mill no shipments were made from that mine during the week.

WIFE REFUSES PRESENT

Husband Says She Told Him He Was Person Non Grata and Spurned His Gifts.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Provo, July 9.—Coming home from work late one night, Joseph E. Hall of Springville says his wife told him he was not wanted around there any more. At another time he tried to give her presents, but she turned cold and told him she wanted nothing from him, as she could make her own living. At odd times she has been away, he says his wife admitted men to their home and allowed them to remain until morning.

This is told in Hall's divorce complaint against Grace Hall, which was filed in the district court today. Hall wants a divorce and custody of his two minor children. They were married in Provo on April 18, 1904.

The husband's action filed today, Vida Lee Pulley of American Fork says her husband has been cruel and has failed to provide for her. She says he kicked and beat her several times when he was drunk. She wants the custody of the child and alimony. They were married at American Fork on February 12, 1908.

GOPHERS AND THE DROUTH.

Rodents and Dry Weather Cause Loss to Farmers.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Tooele, July 9.—From gophers and the drouth, farmers of Skull valley will suffer more heavily this year than for a long time in the past. Reports here are to the effect that gophers are thick in the valley, and that they are destroying much of the crop in spite of the efforts of the farmers. Where there was a yield of 10,000 bushels last year, it is stated there will not be more than 2,000 bushels harvested this fall. Reports from all over the county state that the crop will be only about one-third of the yield last year, owing to the drouth and to the hot sandstorms which have been most uncomfortable and damaging.

ANDREW B. KING DIES.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Logan, July 9.—Andrew King, sr., died yesterday at 1 p. m. after an illness of fifteen days. General debility was given out as the cause of his death. He leaves a wife and four children, two sons and two daughters. Mr. King was born at Craghill, parish of Inverness, Scotland, on June 1, 1827. At 28 he joined the Mormon church. In 1874 he moved to America, settling in Logan, where he has since resided. He married Eliza B. Lewis in 1857. Seven sons and four daughters were born to the couple. Chief Probation Officer Andrew King of Logan, James King of Lost River, Ida; Mrs. David Drysdale of Logan; and Mrs. E. Smith of Pocatello are the surviving children.

DR. HUGHES RETURNS.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Spanish Fork, July 9.—Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes have returned from the Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia, this year. Since graduating, Dr. Hughes and wife and mother have been visiting relatives at Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Reading, Trackville, Pa., and Youngstown, Ohio. They were sightseeing at Washington, D. C. Dr. Hughes is a native of Spanish Fork and a brother of Dr. Ephraim Hughes of Provo.

EMPLOY SALT LAKE.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Ephraim, July 9.—Engineer Caldwell of Salt Lake has been employed to make preliminary survey of the proposed waterworks system. After conferring with the officers and the directors of the waterworks company, Mr. Caldwell will include a part of the physical culture exercises. An interesting reading from "Muscular Power and Beauty" was given by Mrs. John P. Sorenson. Miss Sadie Staker conducted the English lesson. After adjournment, the hostess served luncheon. Miss Marion Tennant and Mrs. Mary Funk were the honored guests.

Bingham Notes

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Bingham, July 9.—The scaffolding gave way on George Chandler, Jr.'s new bungalow this morning and he was injured. A carpenter, fell thirty feet into the creek. While badly cut by rocks in the stream, no bones were broken.

As a result of a blast on the new Utah Copper road today, a house crashed through the home of Guy Bolognese, not far from the center of town. Some of the pieces of rock fell in the piano in one of the rooms. Another rock from the same blast went through a house belonging to Dr. F. E. Straup. No one was injured.

FISH ARE KILLED BY SUGAR REFUSE

Game Commissioner Raids Restaurants and Catches Peddler of Trout.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Logan, July 9.—The Lewiston sugar factory is accused by State Fish and Game Commissioner Fred Chambers of being the cause of the death of thousands of fish in the Cub river. The sugar factory, located on the Cub river, is accused of dumping sugar refuse into the river, which has killed the fish. The sugar factory has had before Attorney General Barnes.

Commissioner Chambers and Deputy A. H. Moyes went to Richmond, Utah, last Wednesday to get witnesses to testify that the breaking of a dam allowed osmose to overflow into Cub river to such an extent that fish were killed. The sugar company had put in dams at the request of the state commissioner, earlier in the spring. These dams broke in June, which allowed the poisonous osmose to do its deadly work.

It is the contention of the state officers that the fish fooded in the river from the factory to the junction of the river with Bear river are totally destroyed by the investigation.

Commissioner Chambers and Deputy Moyes continued their investigations into the fish and game conditions by raiding restaurants in Logan Thursday morning. W. G. Davis, a restaurant proprietor, was caught with fish in his place, but he claimed that the fish were left with him by a friend. The matter was left open until further investigation.

Henry Porter was caught trying to dispose of trout to the restaurants, but the officers had the basement of the presence of the wardens and refused to purchase.

One of the managers of a string of flour mills located along a mill-race, will be notified that he must keep the race clear of the weeds leaving from the Logan river.

The eighth ward canal companies have been warned to screen their canals. Game associations in Richmond, Smithfield, Hyrum and other places are taking steps to see that proper screening is carried out.

Commissioner Chambers said that conditions are in fairly good shape in the fish and game conditions by Mr. Moyes will return next week to push prosecutions.

HONEYMOON ON HORSEBACK

Newly Weds Declare Experience Delightful One.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Mt. Pleasant, July 9.—The novel scheme of a honeymoon on horseback was successfully tried by Nels Brotherson and Miss Alice Graham this week. Mr. Brotherson went to Price, where he married Miss Graham, and then the happy couple came to Salt Lake City.

Over the range on horses, Mr. and Mrs. Brotherson declare the experience to have been a delightful one from the time they left Price until they were welcomed here by their many friends. Friday night they were tendered a reception at the home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bakkie Brotherson.

SUCCESS TO OPERATION.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Tooele, July 9.—Douglas Camren was buried in Tooele yesterday. Funeral services were at the L. D. S. church in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Mr. Camren had not been well for two or three weeks, but thought it was only a cold from which he was suffering, the seat of which being behind his left ear. He was taken to the Tooele general hospital where his trouble was pronounced to be abscess of the brain. An operation was performed and he died at midnight on Wednesday, never having regained consciousness. Mr. Camren had been here from Scotland. He was 49 years of age, and leaves a widow and five small children. Since his arrival Mr. Camren had been employed at the smelter.

PREPARE GRANDER

Preparations This Year Are More Extensive Than Ever Before.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Brigham City, July 9.—Everybody is talking Peach day, and a good many are working hard to make the celebration this year bigger and better than ever. Committees have been named to take charge of the various departments and all are busy arranging details.

The date of the celebration first selected was September 14, but at a recent meeting of the executive committee the date was changed to September 7. This is due to the very early season, and it is feared by some that the date will again have to be changed to at least one week earlier, thus making the celebration come two weeks earlier than last season. This would be August 21. This, however, has as yet not been decided upon, and if the change is made it will be made in a few days.

The feature of this year's celebration will be an elaborate parade and the boosters of this feature promise one of the grandest pageants ever witnessed in northern Utah. The parade will be divided into at least six sections, to be under the supervision of the following business men: Home manufacturers, William Jensen, John H. Horsley; county bands and Utah-Idaho Sugar Co. float, Willard S. Hansen; Brigham band and float from Mantua, William Hansen, livestock, S. N. Cole, agricultural, David Holmgren; horticultural, David Stohl, C. G. Adney; commercial, Hyrum J. Hansen; W. Hansen has promised the committee two floats, each drawn by six of Mr. Hansen's thoroughbred horses, and these floats Mr. Hansen will exhibit some of his high bred sheep, cattle and horses.

Another feature of the parade will be an automobile section and all automobile owners are invited to take part. All visiting state, city and county officials from other cities will be invited to occupy the automobiles during the parade.

Sheriff Joseph Josephson has been appointed grand marshal of the day, with the authority to invite all precinct constables as aides.

STONE FOR COURT HOUSE.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Brigham City, July 9.—During the past week five or six carloads of granite have been received by the contractors of the new county court house. The stone is a specially cut and dressed light grade sandstone, which was shipped from Wyoming. This material will be used for the outer walls to a level above the basement of the building. The stones are about 18 inches high and are grooved. Above the sandstone, the two upper stories of the structure will be built of white pressed brick. Work on the building will progress more rapidly from now on.

JURY CONVICTS CAMPBELL UNDER PROHIBITION LAW

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Provo, July 9.—After being out only a short time, the jury hearing the evidence against Robert Campbell, charged with violating the prohibition ordinance of Spanish Fork, brought in a verdict of guilty this afternoon. The trial has been in progress for several days before Judge John E. Booth of the Fourth district court and has attracted much interest, owing to the liquor fight which has waged at Spanish Fork and other Utah county towns for a year past. Judge Booth will pass sentence next Saturday.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES WILL BE ELECTED TOMORROW

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Eureka, July 9.—An enthusiastic independent mass meeting was held tonight at the city hall when W. C. Stott and Mrs. E. A. Adams were named as candidates for the three-year term school trustees for the election, which will be held Monday. Andrew Mitchell was in the race for nomination, but was defeated. Joseph Phillips was chairman of the mass meeting, and C. E. Hulsh acted as secretary.

J. T. R. JOHNSON DIES.

Retired Railroad Builder and Contractor Victim of Bright's Disease.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Provo, July 9.—After being seriously ill for a month, Bishop J. T. R. Johnson died at his home in the Sixth ward this afternoon of Bright's disease and general debility. He was born in Lindville, Velle Amt. Denmark, on April 10, 1824, and came to Utah in 1854. He lived in Salt Lake for two years, and then moved to Provo, where he has lived since then. During the early days of Provo Bishop Johnson was prominent in business, church and civic matters and was known as a railroad builder and contractor. He served two terms for the Mormon church, one to Denmark in 1859 and the other in the central states mission in 1886. He was president of the first ward for twenty years, until he retired fourteen years ago.

Bishop Johnson leaves a widow, sixteen children, 53 grandchildren and thirty-three great-grandchildren. All but two of his children were at the bedside when death came. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Utah stake tabernacle.

CANNING FACTORY STARTS.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Brigham City, July 9.—The Brigham City canning company commenced operations yesterday, and is now busy canning apricots. The company expects a heavy run on this fruit this season, owing to the heavy crop. The apricots this year are very small, which is due to the trees being so heavily loaded with the fruit didn't have a chance to spread out.

Hundreds of bushels are being put up every day and the company's run on this fruit this year will be a record-breaker. The company has abandoned the idea of canning cherries and other fruit, according to Manager J. L. Pierce, as the local people cannot compete with the California products in the way of small fruits. Mr. Pierce stated that the reason for this is the fact that California producers use 4-cent a pound sugar, while here canners are compelled to pay more than 6 cents.

A record-breaking run on tomatoes in the fall is looked for.
